Walk a New Path

Forgiveness, Grieving and the Twelve Steps

By Archbishop Sylvain Lavoie, OMI

Join Archbishop Sylvain Lavoie on a healing journey, moving from addiction towards recovery and wellness. Using supportive words and helpful images, and rooting his ideas in both the Christian story and Aboriginal spirituality, Lavoie leads readers through the Twelve Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous with help from a spiritual framework that sustains and strengthens.

This thoughtful and inspiring resource is for anyone wanting to recover from addiction, heal from emotional pain and live an addictions-free life. For those who love and care for them, it will provide insightful knowledge and support.

Archbishop Sylvain Lavoie, OMI, is Archbishop Emeritus of Keewatin-Le Pas and a member of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate. A native of Highgate, Saskatchewan, he has authored numerous articles on aboriginal ministry.
